COVENTRY SKY BLUES

WEEK

INTERVIEW Words Gaz Harrison
Coach Andy Ransberry

road win against Worcester Wolves. What have you been doing in training that has benef tted you in your game?

It was a great game... Worcester came out very strong and were definitely looking more comfortable on their home court. They were hitting their shots and making us rush ours. We were working and doing the right things but in the first quarter Worcester were in control.

We have been working on being patient and disciplined in training and that helped us to keep going and continue playing our game working as a team instead of trying to do it all as individuals. The boys work hard in training and are respectful to each other and the work ethic is strong - we continue to build on the fundamentals and work at game intensity in training to simulate games. We know that the way we practice is the way we will play. The learning of team play happens in training - there is no time to learn something new in a game. Worcester were not giving us any time or space for that so we had to rely on what we did in practice - that was to go back to the fundamentals - communicate, work and play for each other.

This time it worked.

You have three games left before the end of the season what are you working on in training to win these games?

Preparing for games having played teams before we have an idea of what we did well and what we can improve on from our first game. We prepare and focus on the things specific to the other team and continue to encourage the players in what they are doing well and keep them playing as a team to support each other. The boys work hard running and doing drills to keep their fitness up. Keeping them moving at high intensity with drills and skills helps them in games when they are tired. Building belief and the team ethos while having fun and competing with each other lifts the boys.

What has been the biggest thing you as a coach have learnt this season.

The boys want to have fun and learn by being challenged positively. Most of our guys have not been playing that long - for most this is only their second year in the game. They love to compete but want to learn more about the game to improve as individuals and as a team. Finding the balance to teach and let them learn by experience is key. The boys are Under 17 and they are a great bunch of young men. As a coach it is always easy to dictate what goes on and I have realised they need to be involved more in order to learn more. Asking and listening to them more has been wonderful as it helps me to better understand them.

What do you do to bring out the best results from your team during a game.

Letting them know that I trust them and their abilities - encouraging them - being positive and keeping them respectful of the opponents and the of cials. An early arrival and a warm up help settle the nerves of the excitement of game day.

Do you have any advice for a new coach looking to bring a team to the YBL next season.

With an enthusiastic bunch of players and supportive parents you can get through the building phase of a new team. We are in our second year with our two teams at Sky Blues and the Under 15 s and 17 s are doing well through hard work. We know we can compete and continue to improve and develop. Play to develop and don't get hung up on the results. Keep focused on improving as a team.

Do you have any memorable games or highlights from this season?

When the boys play as a team it is great to watch. Todays game was exciting for everyone - the guys on the foor - the bench and the parents. We did what we talked about the past couple of weeks in training and before the game and once we settled down it all came together. It is those light bulb moments when they do things and realise all the training and work was worth it.

Today we played great team help defence to turn things around - I was very pleased to see the guys doing that. This was our best game this season - Worcester made us work hard and the boys kept their composure and turned things around.

What's the biggest thing you want your players to have learnt and take forward in to next season?

Keep learning - keep playing - work as a team and enjoy your basketball.
