

Development Pathway

Anyone can qualify as a Basketball Official, expanding their knowledge and understanding of the game through courses run by the YBL.

Basketball participation is growing, it is a fast paced game requiring officials to work as a team. Team work is a great tool for life.

The rules and mechanics of being a referee or table official make this course an interesting study and great challenge, you get a great understanding of the game from an official's viewpoint.

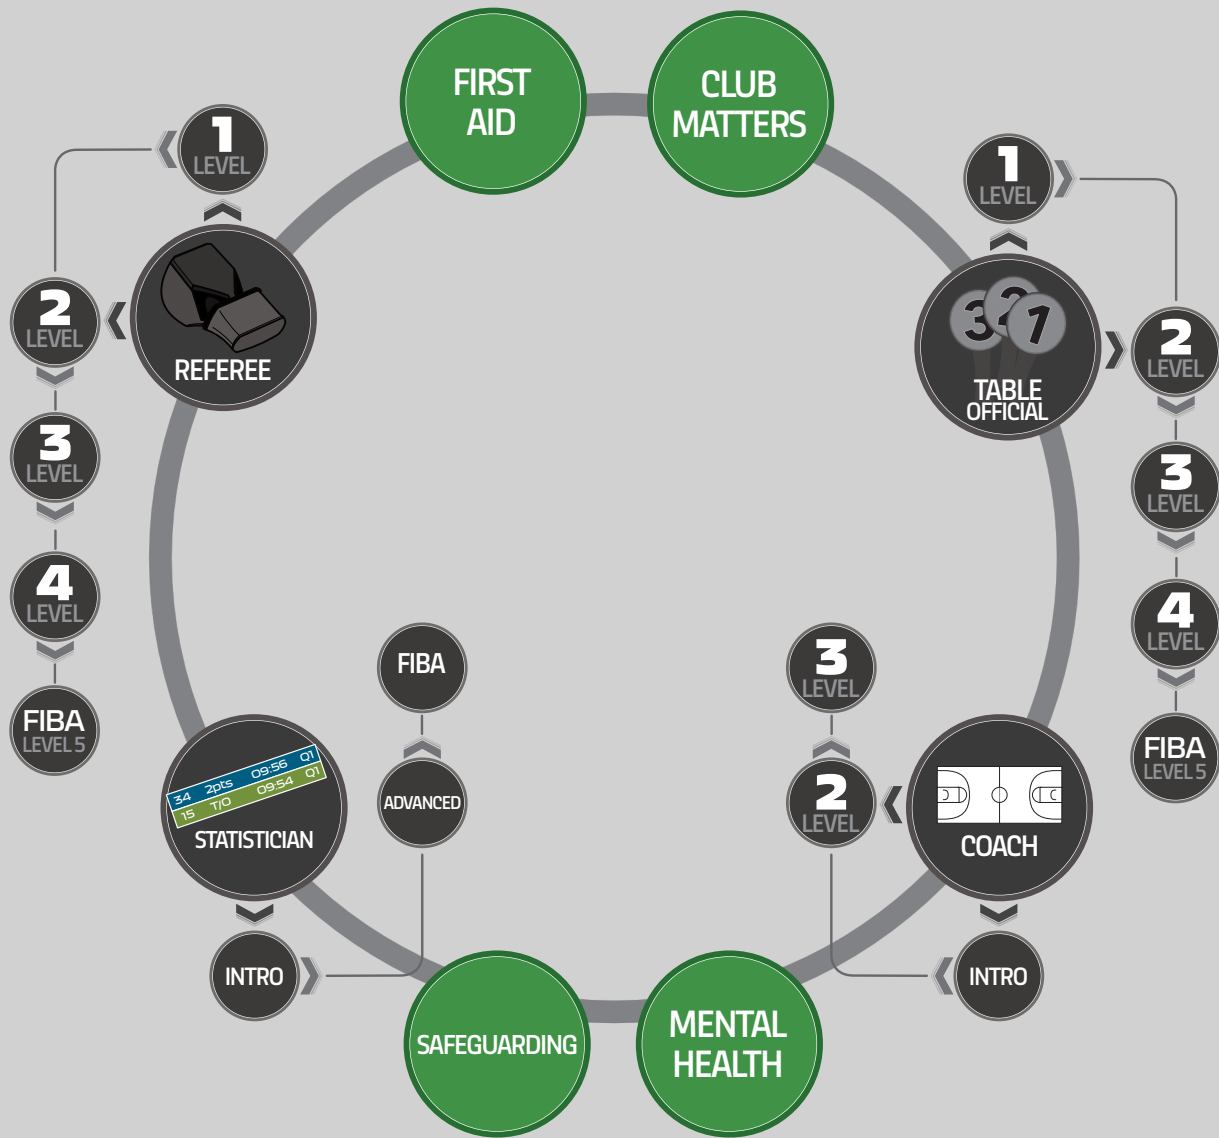

Once qualified, table officials, statisticians and referees can claim a fee and travel expenses for officiating at games.

Valuing the role of officials within sport will help you as a player, coach or even a spectator.

These courses could be added to the curriculum of an academy, club, school or college. The courses compliment and enhance a students basketball knowledge. The courses also provide links within the local community with opportunities to recruit students who are interested in being able to play basketball alongside their education.

CPD, mentoring and the opportunity to progress to the next level of officiating provided by the YBL. The only league to offer a continuous mentoring programme through the levels.

Pathway for qualifications that can lead to officiating at National and International games.

Online virtual classrooms and onsite classroom delivery available.
 All YBL official mentors are qualified and hold current enhanced DBS.
